Kanban Implementation Evidence

This document presents the Jira screenshots in the sequence required for the Kanban portion of Lab 2. The work is based on the seven requirements from BPS #47.

1. Kanban Space and Board Creation

The Kanban Space was created using the Jira Kanban template. The project is named Kanban_BPS#47 and the board is ready for the requirements to be added.

2. Requirements Added - 5 FRs + 2 NFRs

All seven requirements from Lab 1 were added as Jira work items: FR-001 to FR-005 and NFR-001 to NFR-002. The priorities are configured according to the requirements table.

3. Epics / Scenarios and Requirement Association

Six Epics were created and the requirements were associated with their corresponding Epics. The expanded hierarchy shows the parent-child relationships in the List view.

4. Task and Subtask Breakdown - Functional Requirements

Implementation Tasks were added under the relevant Epics for the functional requirements, with Subtasks beneath the Tasks. This demonstrates the required task and subtask breakdown.

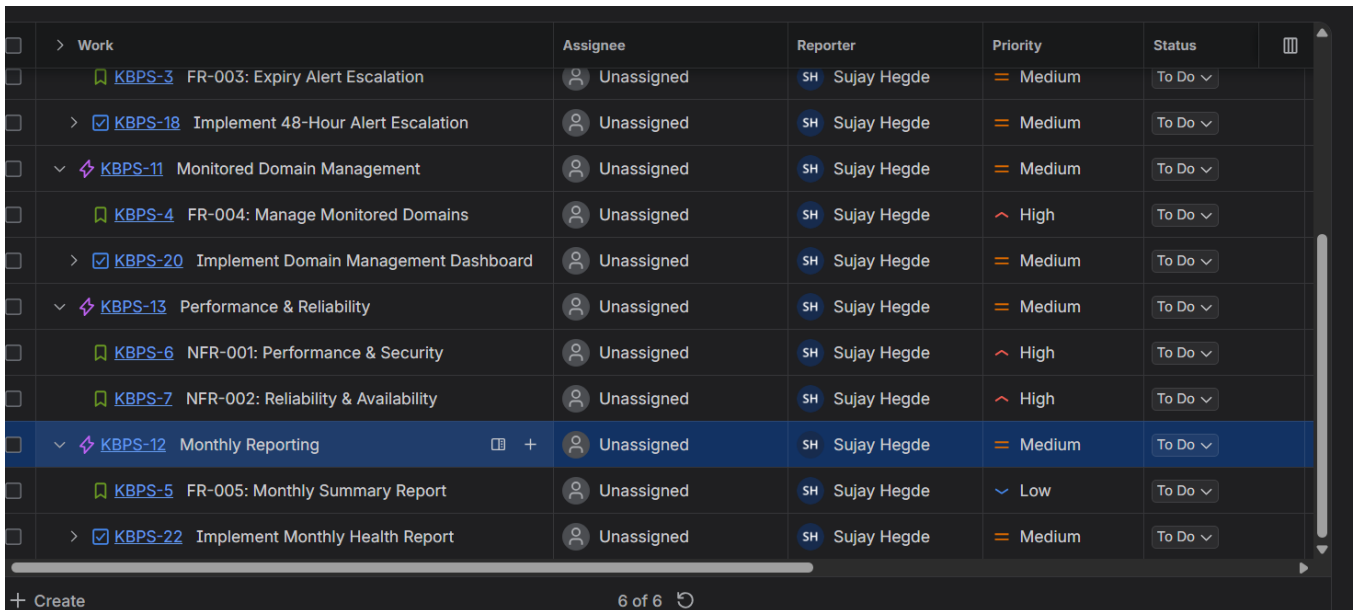

The screenshot shows a Jira Kanban board with a dark theme. At the top, there's a header bar with 'Ask AI', 'Search work', a user profile 'SH', and buttons for 'Filter' and 'Group'. Below this is a table of work items. The first row is a 'Work' item with a dropdown arrow. The subsequent rows are subtasks, each with a checkbox, a key (e.g., KBPS-8, KBPS-1), a title, an assignee (all 'Unassigned'), a reporter (all 'SH'), a priority (Medium or High), and a status (all 'To Do'). A tooltip 'Open work item' appears over the '+' icon next to KBPS-1. At the bottom, there's a 'Create' button and a pagination indicator '6 of 6'.

5. Task and Subtask Breakdown - Remaining Requirements

The remaining functional and non-functional requirements were also given implementation work items. NFR-001 and NFR-002 retain their Task type and have corresponding Subtasks.

6. Example Requirement Details

FR-001 includes the requirement statement and acceptance criteria, with High priority. This confirms that the Jira item contains the requirement-level details from Lab 1.
